Fantastic professor who really enjoyed teaching philosophy!

Would learn from this teacher again. 11/10

Made class entertaining and worth coming to. Was able to make jokes while teaching the material. Really had an interest in our succession in this class overall throughout our academic careers.

He did an excellent job in teaching the course material. He also made a great effort to help us apply what we have learned in real life. This course helped us think about controversial things and other stimulating topics.

I took this course for entirely personal reasons, but the professional and academic payoff was immediate and significant. Many professors in other fields of study have commented on the cogency my writing gained during this course: many even commented that the course should be mandatory—and I wholeheartedly agree.

Dr. Deke is a good guy. He's funny + tries to keep class interesting but when talking about the subject matter/actually teaching he very boring. He also expects us to do too much of the learning on our own + is sometimes judgmental when answering our questions. Overall I think he is a good professor he just needs to fix a couple things.

Not only did Dr. Gould make coming to class fun and interesting, but his teaching and explanations were extremely concise and clear. Furthermore, this course is an intro/100 level course, and it is the most difficult and depthful class I have taken yet. To me, that means this course and this instructor combined created the most educational class I have taken yet.
